Holiday Party December 15

 The Holiday Potluck Party will be December 15 in lieu of a regular Harrison West meeting. Mark your calendars because you won't want to miss the food and fun these Holiday Potlucks always entail.

Last's year's event was very enjoyable, and the last guests staged an impromptu caroling session.  Who would want to miss that?

However, we still need a venue, a Chair Person, and some party planners. Call Dave Butler at 421-7157 to volunteer.

Membership Drive Beginning

It's time for the annual drive to enlist members for the Harrison West Society. The Society's goal is to improve our membership by 10 percent over 2004. With 256 members, that means we need renew everyone and get 25 new members. Sign up your neighbors, get to know the folks across the street, and don't forget those new people who moved in down the block. Tony Celebrezze is doing a great job as Chair, but he depends on the rest of us to help.

Side by Side Art Park Funded

The City of Columbus has released the UIRF (Urban Infrastructure Recovery Funds) money to complete the Third Avenue Bridge Park, aka Side by Side sculptures the focal points. To make the park more friendly, a paved path will be added along with two benches. Plans also call for lighting the sculptures. The City has been working closely with the Harrison West Society to make this a reality. Look for changes to begin in 2005. The UIRF money was allocated to the park in 1999, but the funds haven't been and won't be available until the 2005 budget.

Harrison West News Editor Resigning

"It's time for a new voice for Harrison West," Harrison West News Editor Veda Gilp says. Gilp, who has been creating the Harrison West News for more than nine years, plans to turn the newsletter over to a new editor after the May issue.

The Harrison West News is one of the best neighborhood newsletters in the Metro area. It is the voice of Harrison West in all the City departments. As such, it not only carries news of the neighborhood, but reminds the City that Harrison West is an important neighborhood.

It's Harrison Park. A better lifestyle.

It begins with the location — in one of Columbus' established, historic neighborhoods, Harrison West — anchored by a four-acre park along the scenic Olentangy River.

It is shaped by the sense of community created by the homes in the neighborhood and the people who live there.

Visit our web site for information on our homes, lofts and apartments with all the creature comforts.

4th Annual Marathon Race Party Was Another Fun and Tasty Harrison West Event

We cheered on the racers, chowed down, and had a good time with our neighbors at the 4th Annual Harrison West Marathon Race Party. This year, the race ran along Fifth to turn onto Neil, making our usual corner prime cheering ground. Panera supplied the food again this year. Great weather. Great event. Great friends. Parties don't need anything else.

Newsletter Editor Sought for Harrison West News

Responsibilities include attending all Harrison West events and meetings; taking pictures and PhotoShooting them for the publication; writing the articles; designing and putting together the newsletter; working with the printer; selling and invoicing advertising; keeping a data base of politicos and friends of Harrison West and mailing the newsletter to them each month.

Applicants should be skilled in desktop publishing, reporting, and photography. Reasonable expenses are reimbursed by the Society. Apply to David Butler, 421-7157 or dbutler4@columbus.rr.com.

Public Art Excitement Happening in Short North

BrickStreet Arts, The Friends of Goodale Park, and the Short North Improvement District people have been working to make our extended Harrison West neighborhood a Public Art center. Now you're being invited to look, enjoy, and, in the case of the Sculpture-Fountain for Goodale Lake, help decide what's created.

Grand Sculpture Fountain in Goodale Lake Wants Your Vote

Founded in 1851, Goodale Park is the city's oldest park and the park most visited by tourists to Columbus. The sculpture fountain will be enjoyed by millions of people for generations to come. This is your chance to help decide what the design will be. The first showing of the finalists' designs will be during the Short North Gallery Hop on Saturday, December 4 from 2 to 10 PM in the Wood Development conference room at 930 N. High Street. Friends of Goodale Park and BrickStreet Arts Association is presenting this exhibit to the community seeking input regarding the designs. Fifty-four artists, some from as far away as Canada, Mexico and Japan, competed to design the sculpture with water feature that is to grace Goodale Park Lake. Four finalists were selected during rigorous judging.

Thanks to Rick Miller's (Rec and Parks) handiness with PhotoShop, we can see what one of the finalists envisions for the Goodale Lake Sculpture Fountain.

The second presentation will be at the Friends of Goodale Park Annual Holiday Gala at Cocoa Manor, 76 Buttles Avenue, December 15 from 6 to 9 PM. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $35, with all proceeds from the event going to install the sculpture and fountain. For more information or to make a donation, please call 228-2912.

The Cliff Dwellers mural on High Street on the side of the Burgundy Room building is garnering some wonderful comments. It will be dedicated at the Short North holiday bash in December. Cliff Dwellers, a copy of the George Bellows painting of a New York tenement, was painted by Curtis Goldstein and Michelle Attias, local mural artists.

The Couch is in up the street at Greenwood and High. Created by artist Robert Huff, it was installed November 12. BrickStreet Arts commissioned the Public Art in conjunction with the Short North Improvement District.

Crime Report Is Bad News

There's no way to sugar coat this: some person or persons is on a rampage of malicious destruction in Harrison West -- everything from breaking car windows to graffiti vandalism. During October, there were 8 car or truck break-ins and theft, 2 burglaries, 7 episodes of malicious destruction, and 1 sexual assault. The holidays will make it worse. Watch yourself, and empty your car when you park it.

In other news, Sheriff Karnes has informed the Harrison West News that a sexual predator has moved into Harrison West. For more information on sexual predators, check out the Sexual Predator link at www.sheriff.franklin.oh.us.

Eadie Gourmet Eats Out at MCL

They also offer tossed salads and a spinach salad with onions and oranges. The spinach salad always is a good bet, but summon up sufficient verbal energy to ask that they put it into a much larger bowl than the dessert bowl it's usually piled into; otherwise you wind up with spinach and onion rings all over the table.

They offer blue jello. Enough said.

If you are lucky enough to get there when they have meat loaf, rejoice. It's the kind your grandmother made. (My mother cooked meals, but you all are a bit younger than I, and I'm assuming your Mom worked and hit MCL just as I do.) All beef, just enough bread crumbs to hold it together, and ketchup on top.

They almost always have baked turkey with dressing, which is good.

They also offer roast beef sliced to order, and almost always some beef patty cooked with something. Don't go there. This is not a place you want to eat beef.

Stick with the chicken, turkey, baked or fried fish, or the occasional cabbage roll or stuffed pepper.

Sides go with the entrees offered. Always those good mashed potatoes, beans of some sort, sometimes mac and cheese. Assume the vegetables will have come from a can, except when they have asparagus, when it's fresh and cooked just right.

They make their breads and desserts there, and they are big sellers by the piece and uncut. Try the cloverleaf rolls. Pretty good.

They always have pie and cake and a custard of some sort. For two years, I've been resisting their custard pie. One of these days....

Last week, Molly got a humongous piece of dark chocolate cake with a pastry creme filling. She was going to take it home with her, but you know me and my chocolate habit. She had half a piece left to take home.

MCL will never take the place of your Mom's kitchen, or Cap City Diner, or the French Loaf. But for what it is, and for as little energy as it takes to eat there, it's good value, decent food, and you can almost always be pretty sure you won't run into anyone you know who's under 70.

Eadie Gourmet Eats Out at MCL

by Veda Gilp

Neighbors Molly Maccracken and Lauren Creighten and I frequently hit the MCL, otherwise known as the MediCare Lounge, for comfort food on those nights none of us have the energy to cook — or deal with perky wait persons.

If you've ever been in that position, the MCL in Kingsdale Center should be in your list of "places I like to eat but don't brag about."

The MCL serves up true comfort food for very little money. There's no tipping, and you'll NEVER see a size 2 waitress. It's a cafeteria just like in grade school where you push your tray along the line and point out what you want. Few verbal skills are required, which is good, given my state of mind some evenings.

The food is better than you would expect, and, contrary to rumor, they do provide salt and pepper at the tables.

I go for their baked chicken, which is always very good, costs less than $4, and is right there when I point at it. With it I usually have decent mashed potatoes and gravy and green beans cooked with bacon (remember, I said I go there for comfort food).

They always offer the kinds of salads your grandmother made: carrot and raisin, 3 bean, cucumbers and onions in vinegar, jello with fruit, broccoli and mayo, pickled beets. Lauren loves their cucumber and onions and Molly orders the 3 bean whenever they have it.
